

Summer Reading for Students Entering First Grade – 2018

Reading during the summer is so very important! I want to encourage you to join a summer reading club if your local library offers one. While some students enjoy reading on their own nearly all children enjoy sitting beside someone as they read aloud. This time is always a treasure. Parents, grandparents and older siblings can enjoy it as much as the beginning reader. Whether you have travel plans or you will be vacationing at home try an audio book as a substitute for electronic games, videos, or TV. Listening helps build fluid reading skills too!

Don't forget about reading Non-Fiction titles! You can read about animals, history, inventions, people and places just to name a few. Books by Seymour Simon are especially enjoyable non-fiction titles for this age group with wonderful pictures to make the words come to life.

We are asking students entering 1st grade to keep a log of the books they read and to tell us which ones they really enjoyed. Attached you will find a page for doing just that. Students who return this page or one similar in September will be able to join us for a Summer Reading Celebration!

The TCS library will be open most Wednesdays throughout the summer from 10 AM – 2 PM (closed on the 4th of July).

I hope you will enjoy your summer along with dozens of great books! I will be excited to hear about your favorites when you return in September!
